

Interdisciplinary Microbiome Project

Hilary Term Seminar Series
2pm - 3pm

The Roy Griffiths Room, Keble College, Oxford

The Hilary Term Seminar Series aims to bring leading thinkers on the implications of microbiome science to Oxford.

2 Feb. Andrew Singer (Senior Scientist, Centre for Ecology and Hydrology)

Implications of policy on AMR in the environment, and vice versa

15 Feb. Hannah Landecker (Director, Institute for Society and Genetics, and Associate Professor, Department of Sociology, UCLA)

The Food of our Food: Microbial Lessons From the History of Growth Promoters

23 Feb. Lindsay Hall (Microbiome Research Leader, Institute of Food Research)

Fact and Fuss: implications for microbiota research

9 Mar. Fulvio D'Acquisto (William Harvey Research Institute, QMUL)

The immunological side of emotions and feelings. What's s..t got to do with it?

For more information: <https://www.oximp.org/events/>

